Brighton is one of the most well known and diverse coastal cities in the United Kingdom due to its famous pebble beaches, numerous festivals, casinos, theatres and cinemas as well as multiple landmarks and historical sites

The Royal Pavilion, The Brighton Wheel and the Brighton Pier are among some of the most popular attractions of the area. It is a lively city with a young population and there's always a great day/night out to be had: from street artists and the beach to restaurants, pubs and clubs. It is the place where the busy city life meets the tranquility of the sea

If you are interested in a permanent position in a public hospital whose priority is professional development and continued learning then call or email one of the International Team Now

Brighton and Sussex University Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust is a University hospital working across two sites: the Royal Sussex County Hospital in Brighton and the Princess Royal Hospital in Haywards Heath. They strive to work as one hospital towards one goal - high-quality care for patients and a comprehensive range of development opportunities for staff
With excellent road and rail networks, the Trust is easily accessible by public transport. Its role is to provide a full range of services to a wide local area, attending over 750,000 patients per year
As a University hospital it takes pride in its role as an academic centre and is renowned for cutting edge research and innovation. It makes sure to provide all necessary training so that staff can achieve their full potential
It is located a mere 1 hour away from London and 30 minutes away from Gatwick International Airport
